A Tapestry of History and Heritage

Smiths Falls owes its existence to the Rideau Canal, a UNESCO World Heritage Site that was built between 1826 and 1832 as a military defense against potential invasion from the United States. The town grew as a hub for shipbuilding, mills, and other industries that took advantage of the canal's transportation and waterpower.

Today, Smiths Falls celebrates its heritage through numerous historical sites and buildings, including the iconic Blockhouse, built in 1832 as a defensive outpost. The town's charming streets are lined with Victorian and Edwardian homes, adding to its quaint and historic atmosphere.

Nature's Playground

Beyond its historical significance, Smiths Falls is also a haven for nature lovers. The Rideau Canal offers endless opportunities for boating, fishing, and kayaking. Lush parks and scenic trails wind their way through the town, inviting visitors to explore the area's natural beauty.

The centerpiece of Smiths Falls' natural attractions is the Lower Rideau Falls, a breathtaking waterfall that cascades into a deep pool. The falls are a popular spot for picnics, photography, and admiring the power and beauty of nature.

Community Spirit and Cultural Treasures

Smiths Falls is more than just its history and natural beauty; it's also a vibrant community with a strong sense of pride and belonging. The town hosts numerous annual events and festivals, including the Smiths Falls Heritage House Tour, the Smiths Falls Dragon Boat Festival, and the Smiths Falls Fall Fair.

Smiths Falls is also home to several cultural gems, including the Smiths Falls Arts and Culture Centre, which showcases local and regional artists. The town's vibrant arts community also includes several galleries, studios, and workshops.

A Photographer's Paradise

Whether you're an amateur photographer or a seasoned professional, Smiths Falls is a photographer's paradise. The town's unique blend of history, nature, and community provides endless opportunities for capturing stunning images.

From the historic facades of the town's buildings to the serene beauty of the Rideau Canal and the cascading Lower Rideau Falls, there are countless photographic treasures waiting to be discovered in Smiths Falls.
