The Lawrence Family's Story

The Lawrence family consists of husband and wife, David and Ashlee, and their four children: David Jr., Addie, Luke, and Ellie. David is a pastor and Ashlee is a stay-at-home mom. The family had been living in a small, two-bedroom house for several years. The house had limited storage space, a cramped kitchen, and outdated bathrooms. The family longed for a home that was more functional and spacious, but they didn't have the resources to make their dream a reality.

In 2016, the Lawrences applied for Fixer Upper and were overjoyed when they were selected to be on the show. They worked closely with Chip and Joanna to design a home that met their needs and reflected their style. The family's budget for the renovation was $200,000, which included the cost of materials, labor, and furniture.

The Renovation Process

The Lawrence family's renovation took place over several months. The first step was to gut the interior of the house and remove all of the old finishes. This allowed Chip and Joanna to start with a clean slate and create a completely new floor plan. The family opted for an open-concept design, which made the home feel more spacious and airy.

One of the most dramatic transformations was the kitchen. The old kitchen was small and outdated, with limited storage space. Chip and Joanna gutted the entire kitchen and replaced it with a large, modern kitchen that featured a center island, custom cabinets, and state-of-the-art appliances. The family was thrilled with their new kitchen, which became the heart of their home.

The rest of the house underwent similar transformations. The living room was made larger by removing a wall, and a new fireplace was added. The bedrooms were reconfigured to create more space, and the bathrooms were completely remodeled. The family also added a large mudroom to the house, which provided much-needed storage space.

The Final Product

The Lawrence family's renovated home was a stunning transformation. The home was now spacious, functional, and stylish. The family loved their new home and were grateful for the opportunity to work with Chip and Joanna. The renovation process had been a challenging but rewarding experience, and the family was thrilled with the final product.

The Lawrence family's story is an inspiring example of how home renovation can transform lives. With the help of Chip and Joanna Gaines, the family was able to create a dream home that met their needs and reflected their style. The renovation process was a journey of hope, perseverance, and love, and the final product was a testament to the power of home.
